It's a POP-UP BOOK!

THE PYRAMID MYSTERY

Scooby-Doo, Shaggy, and the gang were driving through a dark, tropical forest when the Mystery Machine began to splutter.

"Uh-oh. Must be the fuel ghouls. We're out of gas," Shaggy groaned. "We'll have to walk from here."

"Ruh-roh!" Scooby agreed.

The gang soon stumbled upon a village.
They heard eerie music coming from behind the fence.

The chief explained, "My daughter, Maya, has been kidnapped and held for ransom by the legendary Monkey Bandit. We're performing an ancient ceremony to ask for help."

The Medicine Man was busy making potions. He tried out a messy blue powder.

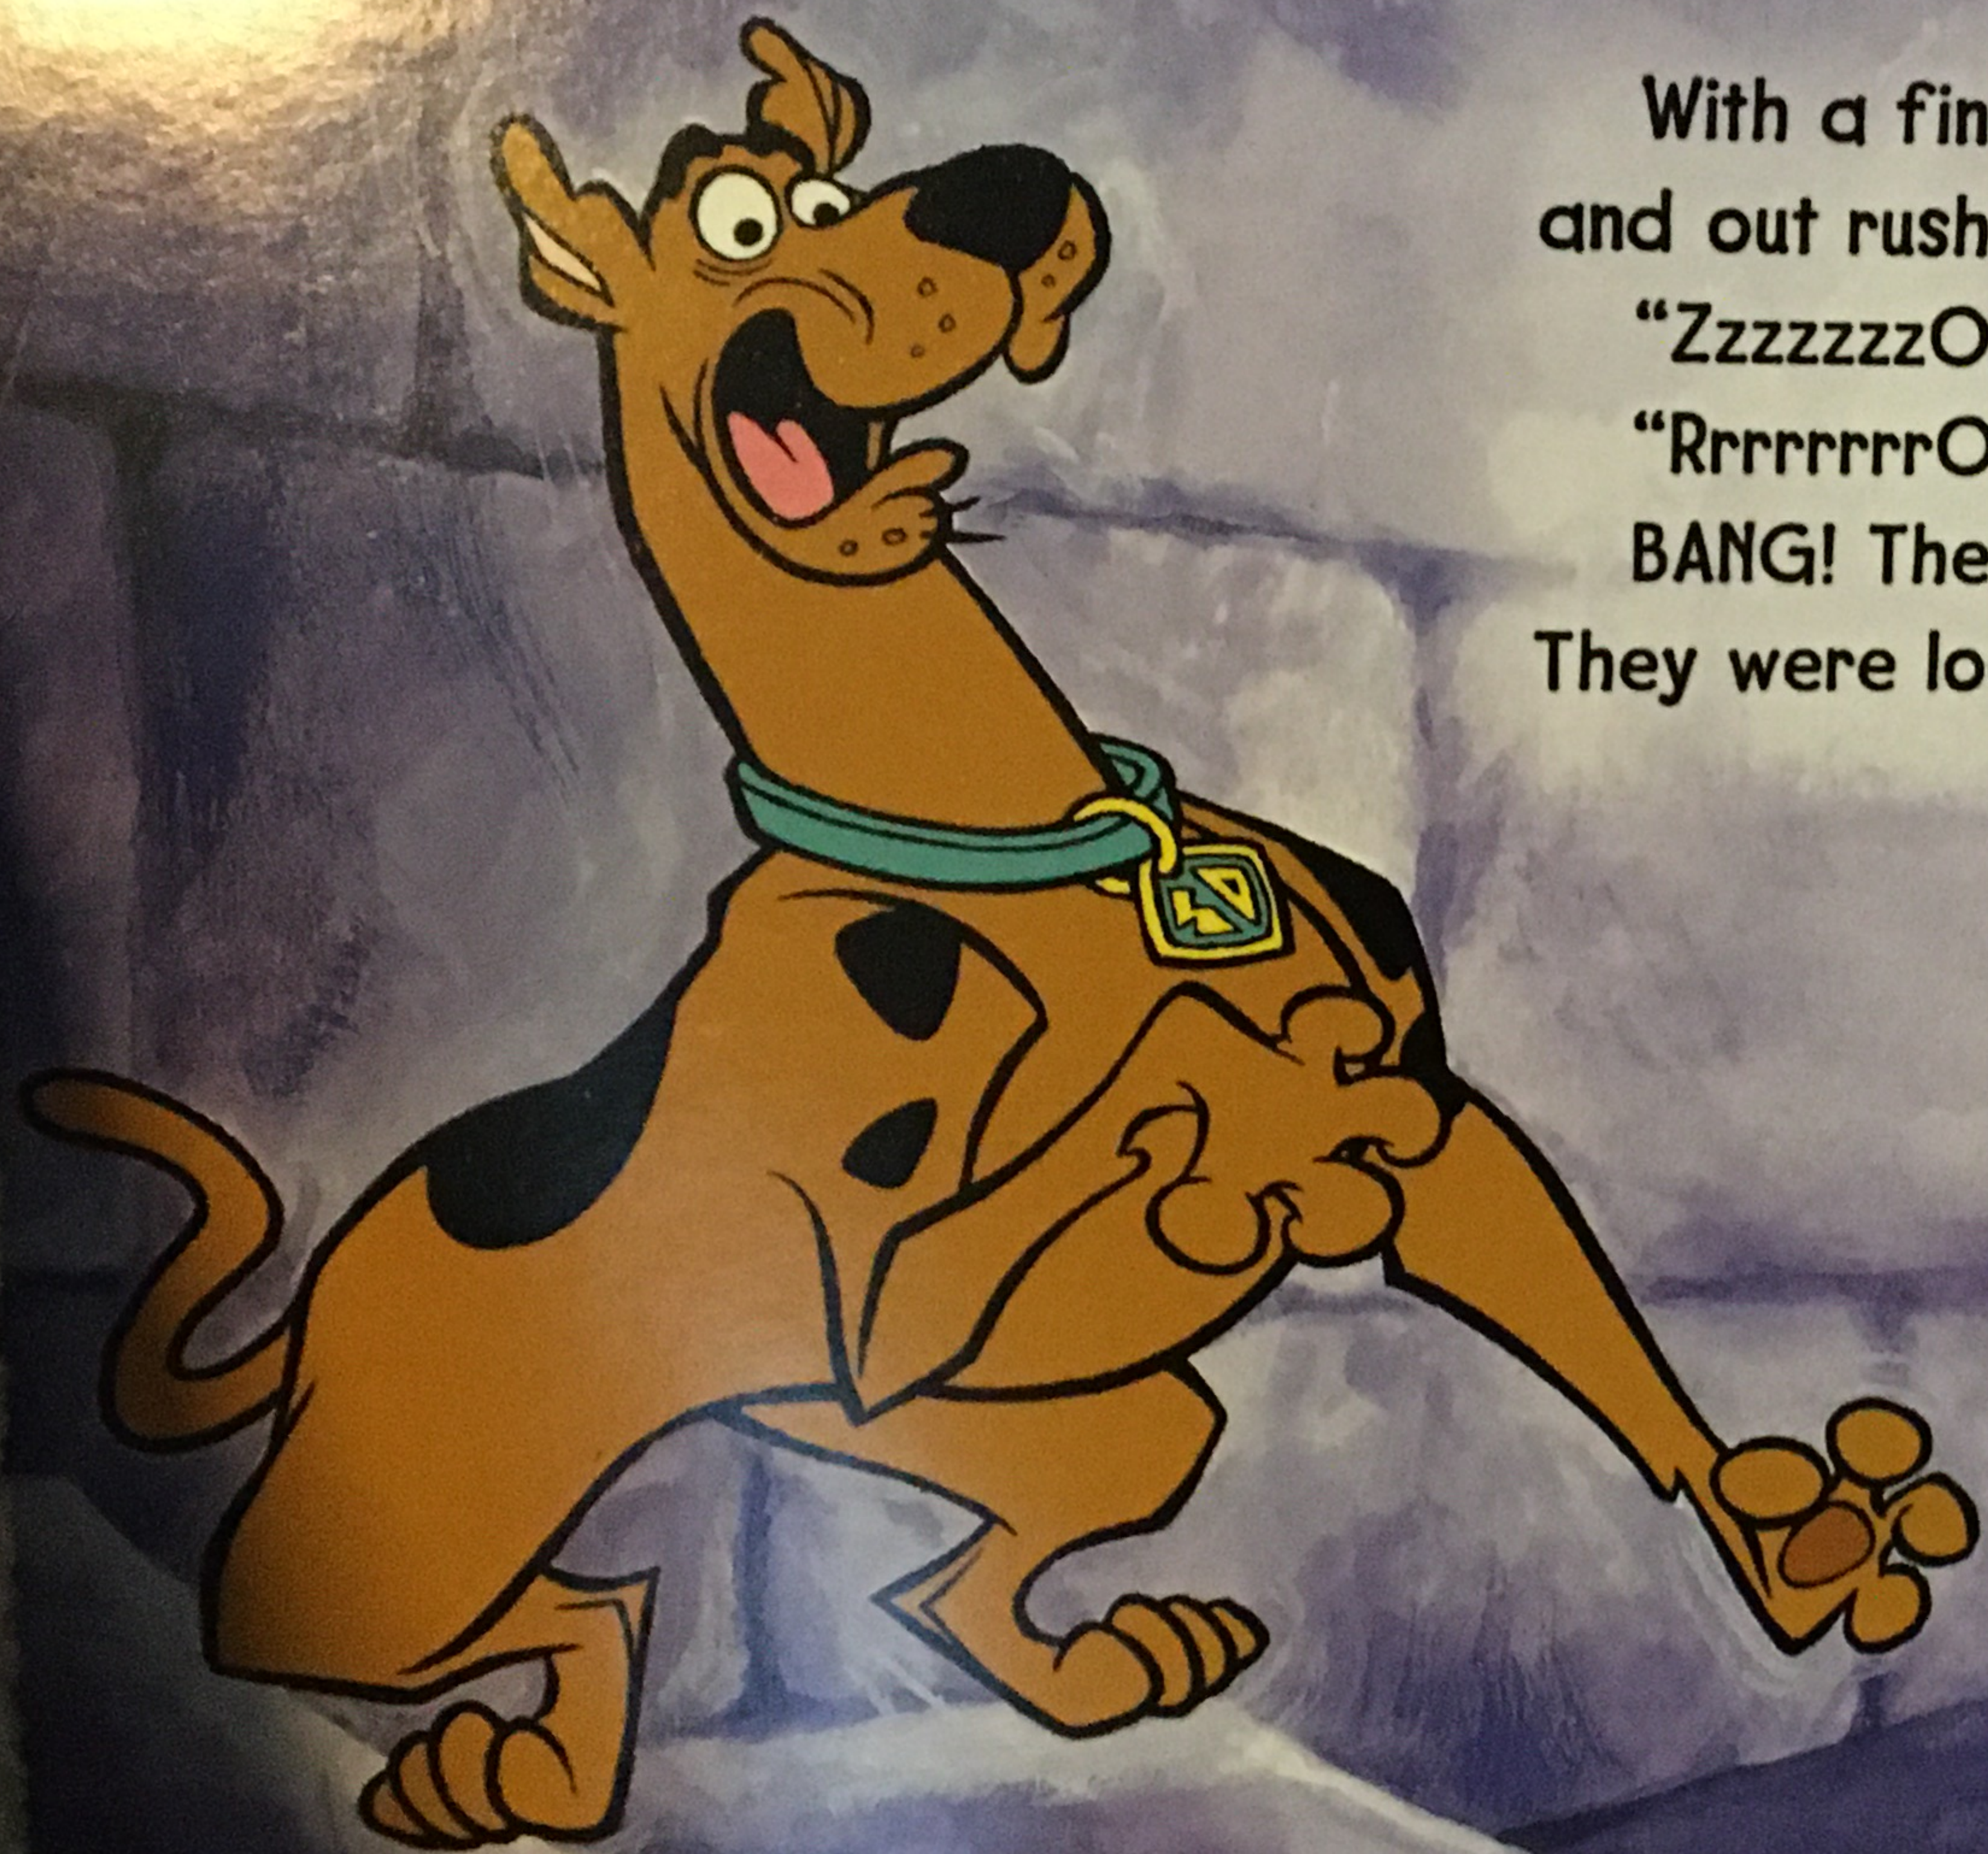

“Rah-chooo!” Scooby sneezed loudly. “The bandit was last seen near that pyramid,” the chief continued. “Can you help us?”

"Look at this message!" Velma said,
"Those who dare to enter here,
shall be overcome by fear."

"I s-sure w-w-wish you hadn't r-read and out rushed a horde of rats!

“ZzzzzzzOINKS!” cried Shaggy.
“RrrrrrrrOINKS!” roared Scooby.
BANG! The door slammed shut behind them.
They were locked inside the pyramid!

cried Shaggy.
“Look, there’s Maya!”
exclaimed Velma.

While the gang searched for an exit, Scooby sniffed something that made him sneeze. "Rah-CHOOOOOOOOOO!"

Just then, Daphne noticed a lever in the wall near Scooby. "Look!" she said.

Velma pulled the lever and a secret door opened.

"Jinkies!" she gasped.
The monkey stumbled into the room.
A terrified Scooby-Doo said,
"Are you okay?" she asked.
"Scooby-Doo roka!"
"That's the Monkey!"
"Look, he's caught in a trap."

"Now, where have I seen that blue powder before?" Fred wondered. "Of course...the Medicine Man made it! But where is he?"

"Here he is!" said Shaggy. "Like, that's some monkey suit, man."

"I would have gotten away with it, if it wasn't for your meddling!" the Medicine Man snarled.

"Thank you for rescuing my daughter," said the chief.
"Now it's time for a feast."
"Reah!" drooled Scooby.
"That's quite some Scooby Snack!" said Daphne.
"Ruh-huh!" Scooby agreed, licking his chops eagerly.
